Family Sentencing Alternative Program

What is the Family Sentencing Alternative Program?

The Oregon Legislature in 2015 approved HB 3503 which created a pilot program that allows some nonviolent offenders who have minor children to be eligible for an intensive supervision program in lieu of a prison sentence. This program was designed with the goals of promoting family reunification, preventing children from entering foster care, holding offenders accountable, and reducing prison bed utilization.

Which offenders are eligible?

- Offenders must have physical custody of their minor child or children or be the legal guardian of a minor child with physical custody of that child at the time of the offense.
- The offender's presumptive prison sentence must be greater than 1 year.
- The offender has not previously been convicted of and is not currently being sentenced for:
 - A person to person felony.
 - A sex crime.
 - An offense requiring a specified sentence under Oregon Law.

What does the program provide?

- 12 Months of Intensive Supervision.
 - Increased Reporting.
 - Family meetings and logs.
 - Department of Human Services Contact
- Parenting Skills Classes.
- Drug and Alcohol Treatment.
- Housing Services.
- Mental Health Treatment.
- Life Skills.
